Open containers banned in the Bay

BY AMY PICKICH

The Bay St. Louis City Council passed an open container ordinance Tuesday which prohibits possessing, consuming or transporting alcoholic beverages in open containers in public areas, including the beach.

Council member Tom Farve cast the only dissenting vote.

A violation of the law could result in a fine of up to $500 or up to 90 days in prison, or both.

The ordinance, which was recommended by Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeil to cut down on littering and the problems associated with crowds gathering and consuming alcohol, will become effective in 30 days. Mayor Eddie Favre also recommended adoption of the ordinance.

"With the city growing so rapidly, we are concerned about taking the necessary precautions," council president Jim Thriffley said.

One resident opposed to the ordinance asked the council to look at other alternatives to the situation. He said a number of residents feel the same way he does, that it is too restrictive. For example, he said it would be against the law for him to go to the beach and have a beer if he wanted.

The mayor and council members said they had received a number of calls from residents concerned about the ordinance's recreational restrictions. McNeil assured council members that officers would be instructed to use logic in certain areas.

Council attorney Don Rafferty said there are arguments for both sides. He said amendments could be added to the ordinance citing suspended areas, also permits could be issued to suspend certain areas for organizations and functions.

Rafferty said the ordinance will help as a preventative measure, as it gives police probable cause to arrest drunk drivers and to take action on crowds drinking.

According to Rafferty, Bay St. Louis is the second city on the Gulf Coast to adopt such an ordinance. A Long Beach ordinance has helped with problems at the harbor and on Jeff Davis Avenue, he added.

Galaxy Casino seeks o.k. on rights-of-way

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Hancock County Board of Supervisors refused Monday to give final approval to several requests from developers of a proposed casino on South Beach Boulevard.

Instead, the board went on record preliminarily agreeing to the requests, mostly dealing with county rights-of-way at, or on, the project's site. Final approval depends on the board's later review of development details.

"I'd just like to know what I'm doing before I approve something," District 1 Supervisor Robert Peterson said after hearing the requests from Galaxy Casino.

Peterson said as the supervisor representing the area in question, he has to be able to answer the public's questions -- and possible criticisms.

The proposed casino complex near Lakeshore Road would include a floating gaming facility, and landside hotel and restaurant facilities. Plans for the complex, however, are incomplete.

Ray Eaton, representing the developers at Monday's board meeting, said detailed site plans will be available in several weeks. Meanwhile, he said he needed the board's blessing to proceed in the project's design and permit-seeking phases.

Eaton had asked that the casino have authorization to use the county rights-of-way for all needed utilities, and that the county abandon all undeveloped rights-of-way on casino-

Sheriff: security guards not needed at HHS

BY AMY PICKICH

Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson told Hancock County School Board members Monday that isolated incidents at Hancock High School do not warrant deputies or security guards.

"It would be very unnecessary, in my opinion, to get security guards at this time," he said during a discussion of student discipline and violence.

Superintendent Myrna Bourgeois has also said there is no need for security guards at the high school.

A number of parents have requested increased security at the school, following a Nov. 11 incident in which two students were arrested for carrying loaded weapons at the school.

One parent said her daughter beaten by other students four times at the school this school year.

The sheriff stressed the seriousness of the gun incident, but added the situation was handled "very appropriately" by all involved.

Peterson said he has stayed in contact with officials and administrators since their meeting at the beginning of the school year and has continued to monitor the situation.

Bourgeois said the program implemented to deter fighting at schools has been successful. She has also said there have been no repeat offenders, once the fighting students were taken into custody by the Sheriff's Department.

"Things are going to happen, but these incidents don't require it," Peterson said.

During the discussion, board member Carol Bustetter voiced concern that the school board not minimize the fights at Hancock.

Peterson said a total of 20 students have been taken into custody for problems at school this year, including 17 for fighting. One student was held for bringing a knife to school; the other two were arrested for carrying loaded guns to school last month.

He said students brought to the jail for fighting are not arrested or held in cells. He said they are housed at the jail, until juvenile officers determine what type of action to take. They are then turned over to their parents.

Peterson also addressed rumors circulating about gangs at Hancock by saying, "We have no intelligence of organized gangs at Hancock High School."

Waveland seeks grant for park

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The Waveland Board of Aldermen zipped through a seven-item agenda Tuesday night in less than 15 minutes with little discussion.

Mayor Stella Frilot requested a ban on smoking during meeting, citing the complaints of several citizens about the usually smoke-filled room.

Unanimous approval was given to all items, including the seeking of an outdoor recreation grant for improvements at Elwood Bourgeois Park.

According to Waveland Community Development director Keith Mitchell, the maximum $30,000 grant is available through the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks (MDWFP).

The city is responsible for matching funds or in-kind services, said Mitchell, who noted, "We could provide labor, or even accept donations from people in the community which would count toward our half."

A public hearing is scheduled Monday, Dec. 13 at 7 p.m. at City Hall Annex to gather input on the recreational needs of the community. Those unable to attend may submit opinions in writing to the MDFWP Office of State Parks, Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Grants, P.O. Box 23093, Jackson, MS 39225-3093.

In other business, the board approved:

—Installation of street lights at 620 St. Anthony St., 553 Meadow Lane and 126 Honey Lane;

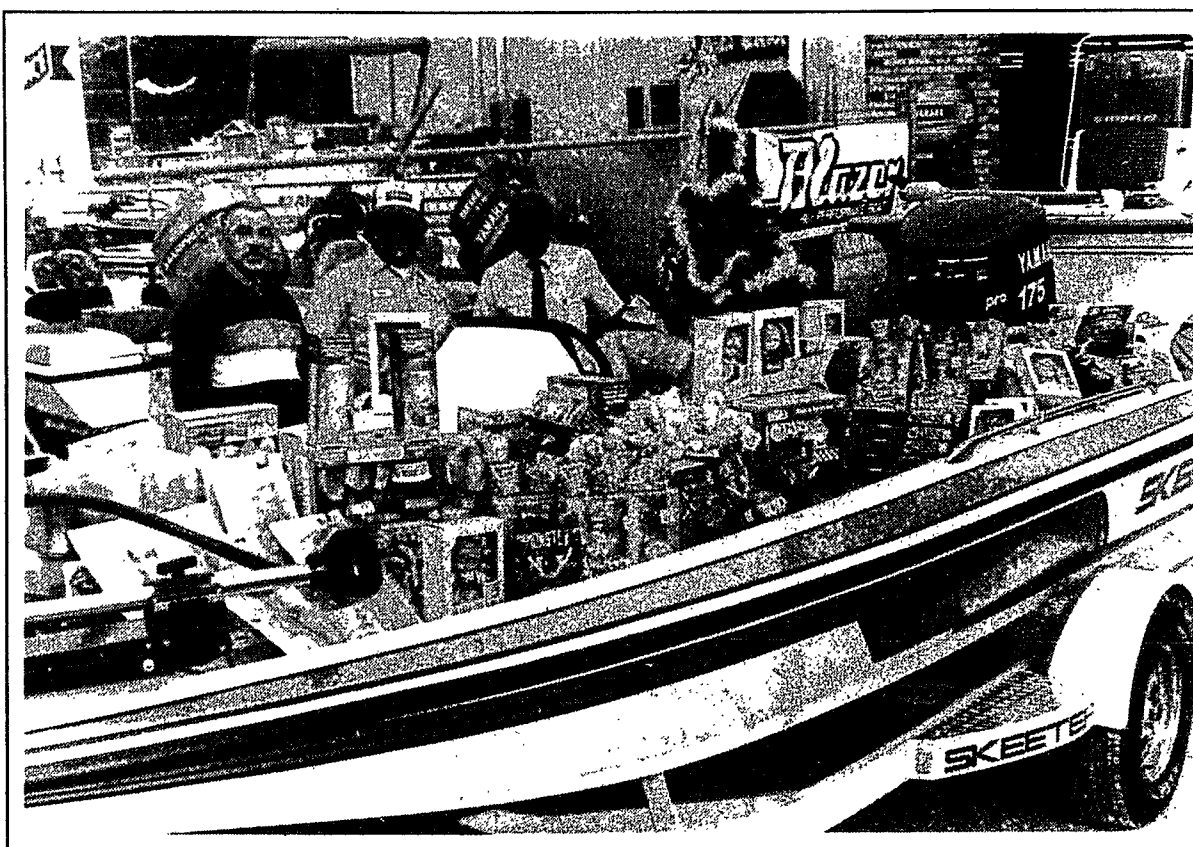

—Resolution authorizing Frilot and Police Chief Jimmy Varnell to sign an inter-local agreement with the Hancock County Metropolitan Task Force for 1994;

—Proclamation declaring December 1, 1993 as "World Aids Day"; and —Minutes of the previous meeting, the docket and recommendations of the planning and zoning commission.

A holiday tradition

Waveland welcomed the holiday season with its annual Christmas Festival of Lights Sunday evening. Coleman Avenue merchants offered cookies and various refreshments. Children visited with Santa and gave him their wish lists. Mrs. Louise Lynch, right, owner of Waveland Drug and Annabelle Fayard, longtime employee, offer punch to festival goers. The tradition of Waveland Drug Store will end on December 31 with the retirement of Mrs. Lynch, registered pharmacist. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

Boatload of toys

The Hancock County Bass Masters presented a boatload of new toys to the Hancock County Doll and Toy fund Wednesday. From left are Raymond A. Cuevas, club secretary/treasurer; Jack Perniciaro, club president; and Bay Fire Chief Andrew Lizana, doll and toy fund director. Lizana expects to fill the Christmas wishes of over 1,000 deserving boys and girls. The Doll and Toy fund is an agency of the United Way of South Mississippi and also receives assistance from individuals, businesses and organizations. Thoughts for meditation:
 There is no right way to do the wrong thing.

Character is a victory, not a gift.

Lord, You know that I often turn circumstances around, trying to make the wrong thing right. Thank You for the victories won when I bring these circumstances to You and follow Your direction. Help me to walk in a way pleasing to You. Amen. The bird with a broken pinion never soars so high again, but its song is sweeter!

You, O Lord, are the source of healing for our bodies and for our hearts. How I thank You. Please mend my spirit. Amen.

Blessed is the one who digs a well from which another may draw faith.

Choose my instruction instead of silver, knowledge rather than choice gold, for wisdom is more precious than rubies, and nothing you desire can compare with her.

Proverbs 8:10-11
 Youth is not a time of life—it is a state of mind. Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years; people grow old only by deserting their ideals. Years wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul. May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in Him so that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Holy Spirit.

Pearl/Arizona survivor succumbs to cancer

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
 Waveland resident Kenneth K. (Ken) McKenna, 84, a survivor of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, died Sunday at his residence of cancer.

McKenna gave an exclusive Echo interview December, 1991, to mark the 50th anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, his first ever to give.

He said he was waiting on the quarterdeck of the Arizona to go ashore to a barbecue, as America became directly involved in World War II.

McKenna, a Navy veteran since 1927, was Chief Quartermaster of the Arizona, on Admiral I.C. Kidd's staff.

McKenna said in the interview, "As the first wave of planes came into view — they were flying low — someone spotted the Rising Sun and yelled, 'They are Japanese planes!'"

"It was a mad scramble. The officer in charge, Lt. Cmdr. Samuel Glen Fuqua, who won the first medal of honor during World War II, began to sound general quarters, and the message was never completed. We got strafed and took two fish (torpedoes) in the side. Next we took the bomb that went down the stack."

"The bomb screens were out of the stack and the bomb went down, and there was nothing to stop it. It blew the magazine off the number two turret. The next thing I knew I was in the water."

McKenna was apparently blown off the quarter deck of the Arizona. He could not recall how he lost his pants and how he got into the water.

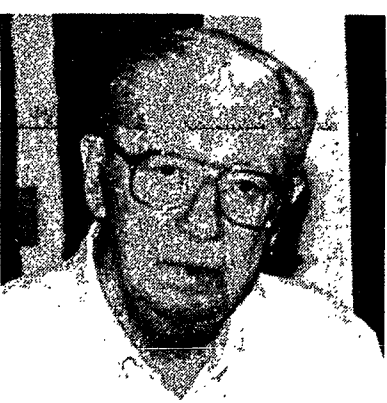

He was picked up out of the water and taken to the Tennessee, a ship he just left four months before, which had taken minimal damage.

He was then stationed at the Algiers Naval Station for the rest of the war, first taking out gun crews on merchant ships and then Master of Arms at Algiers.

In May, 1942, McKenna was a victim of torpedoes from a submarine in the Gulf of Mexico offshore from Houma, La.

McKenna was on the Merchant Ship McTarnahan, a tanker on its way to pick up a load of fuel at Bay Town, Texas, when it was struck by a torpedo and sunk. He said he and the crew were lucky that the ship was empty at the time it was hit by the fish.

Later the sailors and seamen

KENNETH K. MCKENNA

were rescued by the U.S. Coast Guard.

He retired after the war in 1946 and was recalled to duty during the Korean War and asked again to active duty in 1960 to write a manual.

During the interview, McKenna was accompanied by Bay St. Louis friend William (Bill) Sanders, a retired Navy veteran, who was on the USS Curtis, just across Ford Island from the Arizona.

McKenna and Sanders did not know each other until after their retirements, as McKenna moved to Waveland and began attending the Main Street United Methodist Church, where Sanders was a member. Both are members of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association.

On Tuesday, in commenting about McKenna, Sanders said, "He was sure a gentleman, never bragged about anything, and he had a lot to brag about."

"All the years I have known him, I never knew he was blown off the deck of the Arizona during the Japanese attack. I found this out during the 1991 interview. I knew he was assigned to the Arizona, but I always thought he was ashore during the Japanese attack."

"I do know this, I have lost a very good friend, a valiant fighter, even in his years of battle against cancer," Sanders added.

owned property.

The casino also asked permission to remove the existing railing and install new railing or solid wall along the entire Beach Boulevard project frontage, approximately 1,850 feet. Galaxy also wants to connect its proposed pier, roadway and other improvements to the seawall and Beach Boulevard, and to extend the facilities into the Mississippi Sound.

If state and federal permits are granted, the casino plans to build a new channel, about 120 feet wide, to accommodate its gaming vessel.

Eaton said the plans include constructing seven to nine extensions from the seawall sidewalk, each 40 feet long and 15 feet wide, for use as fishing, observation and seating areas. He also asked permission to divert traffic around parts of the construction site, temporarily, so part of Beach Boulevard could be used as a spoil storage site. Once the spoil is dried, he said, it would be trucked to a disposal site and the street would be repaired and reopened.

Eaton also requested county permission to upgrade and possibly extend the seawall outward.

Continuous parking along the project's frontage, and within the western right-of-way of Beach Boulevard, also was requested, except across the front of the lot which now houses a trailer park.

Eaton also asked that Galaxy be granted air rights for an overpass across Beach Boulevard, and out into the Mississippi Sound, to connect with the new casino.

The only item that would actually cost the county money, he said, was a request that the county pay to install traffic signals and signs where appropriate on Beach Boulevard.

District 2 Supervisor Alton Kellar balked at the idea of the county paying for traffic signals, saying the county doesn't usually do that.

Peterson said if the casino paves over the right-of-way for parking along its frontage, at least three sewer lines will be covered in the process. He also expressed concern that diverting traffic around the construction will cause traffic problems. He suggested that the casino's plans be reviewed by the regional planning authority before the county's approval is sought.

Eaton insisted that no traffic problems would result from the re-routing. And, he said, most of the requests he submitted were "generic" in nature, having nothing to do with casino construction as such.

Board Attorney Gerald Gex said the county has a legal process to follow if it plans to abandon rights-of-way. "That ain't generic" he said of the process.

The board went on record as having no objections to Galaxy's plans as outlined in a letter that Eaton presented, but final approval won't be given until site development plans are complete.

Bay Little Theatre seeking members, community support

BY AMY PICKKICH

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre is kicking off a membership drive for 1994 with a party Saturday at 7 p.m.

The public is invited to find out more about the group or to join as an actor, supporter or just as a member.

The theatre, formed in 1946, is the oldest community theatre on the Coast. It is the second oldest in the state.

Theatre board secretary Carol Young said since 1946, ticket prices have only gone up to $7.50 per ticket, but increasing costs make it difficult for the theatre to continue its service to the community without increased support and attendance.

"The theatre has been around for a long time, but if we don't get the support we need from the community, we may not be around in the future."

"People don't realize how much it costs to run the theatre," she said.

Theatre board president Roy Aultman said in 1993 the theatre took in $12,692, but its operating expenses totaled $11,693.

According to Aultman, $26,000 is needed to bring the theatre up to par in 1994.

The theatre's royalty fees alone cost from $50 to $200 per performance. Aultman said a musical usually runs about $200. And aside from the royalties, musicians and choreographers have to be paid, along with bills for upkeep, props, programs and advertising.

Young said everyone is a volunteer except for the musicians and choreographers. She said new board member Pokey Orr will soon help with choreography.

Aultman said less than one-half of one percent of Bay St. Louis and Waveland are involved with the theatre. He hopes to change that in 1994.

With the membership drive, Young and Aultman hope to increase the community's involvement with the theatre, especially with the children's theatre. She said children can get involved by acting or with backstage help.

The theatre group, composed of 96 volunteers, including 11 board members, puts on four to five shows per year, with six to eight performances of each show. Rehearsals usually last 6-8 weeks or more. Membership is $10 per year.

The theatre's tentative schedule for 1994 includes:

—"You'll Love My Wife," directed by Kathleen Fisher, Feb. 25-26 and March 4-5;

—"The Fantastics," a musical, May 13-14 and 20-21;

—"Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolfe," directed by Ray Kutos, Sept. 16-17 and 23-24;

—"Sister Mary Ignatius Tells It All," Nov. 11-12 and 18-19; and —"The Belle of the Bijou," directed by Laurie K. Byrd.

Persons interested in helping support the Bay St. Louis Community Little Theatre by acting, by helping with productions or by becoming a member can call Young at 467-2121 or Aultman at 467-2472 for more information.

Duplicate tags create confusion in Waveland

BY AMY PICKKICH

According to the Hancock County tax assessor's office, duplicate car tags were issued to two people in Hancock County, causing confusion for a woman issued one of the tags last year.

Last Wednesday Waveland police issued a ticket to Cuc Nguyen, wife of a Lakeshore business owner, for having only one working headlight on her van, according to Chief Jimmy Varnell.

Varnell said when officers ran her tag number through the computer, which is procedure, the tag was reported as issued to another Hancock County resident's vehicle. The tag and her license were taken and a citation was issued for the tag.

Varnell said that once his department found out the state had issued duplicate tags, the tag was returned to Nguyen. She was then directed to the tax assessor's office for a new tag.

According to Varnell, Nguyen's license was held because according to her driver's license she did not live in the city of Waveland.

"Anytime we issue a citation to a person with an out-of-city driver's license, the license is held to for court appearance," Varnell said.

He said once she appears in court with proof that she has two working headlights, her license will be returned.

Tax assessor/collector Eddie Murtagh said the incident was an accident. He said when the two tags were issued one went in the computer and the other one didn't.

"It's only happened about twice in the 25 years I've been here," Murtagh said.

"Police were very cooperative and tore up the ticket. And a new tag was issued to the lady."

According to Raymond Cuevas, a friend of Nguyen, the catch to the story is that she received a renewal notice for the tag that was not registered in the computer for her vehicle on Wednesday, the morning before she was stopped by Waveland police. The tag for the vehicle, used for the family business, was to expire at the end of December.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Tuesday marked the 52nd anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

As the old saying goes, how fast we seem to forget, appears to have happened this year.

There has been very little on television, radio and newspapers on the major story of this century.

I received two telephone calls from friends expressing their disappointment in the lack of publicity this year.

I have had the privilege over the years to do exclusive interviews with two who were at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attacked on Dec. 7, 1941. Both were Navy career men.

One of those was done two years ago with Kenneth (Ken) McKenna of Waveland, who was blown from the deck of the Arizona.

Ken died this past Sunday of cancer, and a memorial service was held for him on Wednesday.

William (Bill) Sanders of Bay St. Louis was on the USS Curtis, a seaplane tender just across Ford Island from the Arizona. His ship was hit during the raid, and he was injured.

I talked to Sanders, and he too mentioned how little publicity there was on the beginning of World War II for America.

One telephone call I received was from Henry Otis. Otis was a radio man on the USS Hornet, which so happened to have been christened on Dec. 7, 1941.

Otis was still a radio man on the Hornet when the famous Gen. Jimmy Doolittle raid was made on Tokyo in 1942.

By the way, Gen. Doolittle died just a few months ago.

Hopefully Americans will not forget the tragedies of wars and remember those who gave their lives for the freedoms we have today.

We need to remember those who served our country during World War II, and every man and woman who has ever worn an American uniform during wars and even peace time.

I almost needed 'smelling salts' when I checked my Bay St. Louis utility bill for my residence last Friday.

I saw that big $835 for the month and knew something must have been wrong since the previous month's bill was only $37.

In checking the statement, I saw a charge of $372 for water and $420 for wastewater. I know something must have been afool, because we would have had to constantly flush our toilet to have used that volume of water.

A trip to the utility department at Bay City Hall revealed incorrect information had been entered into the computer for my account.

Anyway, there is a big difference between $50 and $829.

Don't forget, the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Business After Hours will be held tonight at Adams Loraine Flower Shop, 315 Uman Avenue, Bay St. Louis. The hours are from 5 to 7 p.m.

This is a good time for business and friends to get together, exchange business cards and have good conversation.

The After Hours is sponsored by Adams Loraine Flower Shop, and there will be refreshments.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's annual Red Ribbon Christmas parade is once again scheduled for Saturday and it is set for 1 p.m.

Last week the parade and benefit football game had to be canceled because of rain.

A table is once again to be set up at the corner of Beach Boulevard and Highway 90 for registration.

Registrations for parade entries will be from 11 to noon and all participants are asked to use Second Street, so they will be facing in the proper direction.

The big parade's route will be Beach Boulevard to Main Street, Main to Dunbar Avenue, Dunbar to Highland Drive, Highland to the J.D. McCulloch Stadium.

The Operation Merry Christmas flag football game between the Sheriff's Department and Bay St. Louis Police Department is scheduled following the parade.

Admission is one Christmas toy per person.

I hope to see you at the parade and football game Saturday.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Allow prayer in our schools again

To the Editor:

To all the children who are sincerely wanting prayer back in school, I say — go for the gusto!

Write every congressman and senator in your state, and any others you can, together with one to the President, urging them to get the Supreme Court to reverse their decision.

We, who want prayer in school, have rights, too. Talk about discrimination! There are more believers in this country than those who don't, and we want prayer back in school.

The "children" are bringing guns and knives into the schools, and these are things that hurt or kill. Did prayer ever hurt anyone?

I believe that the overall disposition of the student body in every classroom would be improved if students and their teachers were allowed to pray each morning.

Whether you believe in God or not, surely those who object to prayer in school could not object to the classrooms returning to a place of learning and safety, like they should be.

Believe me, prayer changes things, and our schools and some students drastically need some change.

Lois Crippie
Waveland

Students should be allowed to pray

To the Editor:

I was proud to see we have at least one principal in our state who had the courage and the love for God and his students to allow his students to say a prayer in school.

A am also proud to see we have a governor, who is not a lawyer and loves God and his state, to take a stand for what is right.

We all know what has happened to our schools since we took God out. We have prayer in each of our legislative houses, and most all public meetings are opened with prayer.

Why can't we offer a few minutes to all our students for a prayer to open each school day?

We can pray to God without singling out any religion. Every student should have the right to pray to their own God or be allowed to leave the room or not participate at that time if they should choose.

I think if we are going to bring our schools back, we need to put God and discipline back in and take out the sex and guns.

This will not happen until we, the people, stand up and say 'enough is enough' and take our schools back.

I think it is time we rally behind the principal who was fired in Jackson.

We should get our pickets out and picket our local schools until our education system is back in line.

When I see the condition of our education and justice systems, I know if something is not done soon, we, the people, will lose both.

We elect our officers to make changes, and after they are elected they join the old crowd and blend in with them. I would like to see how many people are interested in these changes.

NAFTA sells U.S. down the river

To the Editor:

National syndicated columnist Charley Reese recently said: "Anyone who supports NAFTA is an enemy of the American people and their families. It's time to start drawing the lines, not in Kuwait or Somalia, but on American soil."

I would go so far as to say that any representative or senator who voted in favor of the North American Free Trade Agreement should be run out of office in disgrace.

We are a people, before we are consumers; we want to be a people, not a market for world products. The object behind NAFTA is not to help America but to instill in our people the feeling that we must consume and obey!

That's what the transnational corporations and their lackeys in Washington, D.C. want you to do. You don't have to farm your land, let the big corporations take care of that. It's beneath your dignity to be a farmer.

The elite in Washington, D.C., run by the Hillary Bill crowd, want you to embrace their new religion of globalism. Become a world citizen, is their watchword. Who needs the Stars and Stripes? Eliminate the borders, become one with the Third World.

Bill Clinton tells us that NAFTA "is what free enterprise is all about." But is it wise to learn about free enterprise from an avowed socialist such as Bill Clinton? I think not.

NAFTA is not for the benefit of the American people and American businesses, but for vulture capitalism!

Sincerely,
Jack Mohr,
Col. U.S. Army, Ret.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Voters demand spending cuts

In the waning days of the first session of the 103rd Congress, my colleagues and I were given the chance to cut $90 billion in federal spending over the next five years. I am disappointed to say, we blew it. The bill, known as the Penny-Kasich amendment, was defeated by the slim margin of six votes.

If the bill had passed, the cuts would have been real, and they would have been painful. I admit the bill contained a few spending reductions that I would have preferred to exclude, but I felt that there was no other alternative for those of us who are committed to reducing the deficit.

This year thousands of South Mississippians have written me, called me and stopped me on the street to ask me to "cut spending first." I supported the Penny-Kasich amendment because it was the most sensible spending reduction package offered this year.

We must remember that the future success or failure of our nation will be determined by how we address our national debt and our yearly budget deficits. America currently has a national debt of 4.42 trillion, that is $4,422,511,000,000. The budget deficit for fiscal year 1993 is $254 billion. The interest payment on the national debt is $294 billion this year.

Every day our nation sinks $1 billion deeper in debt. Every day more of your tax dollars are squandered on interest on the debt. This madness must stop!

If we truly intend to steer our nation toward fiscal sanity, we must be willing to accept the consequences. Thousands of South Mississippians have told me that they are willing to accept the consequences. And I believe their demands are sincere when they ask me to do whatever it takes to reduce our nation's debt.

I appreciate all those South Mississippians who have encouraged me while I attempt to persuade my colleagues that our debt is ruining this great nation.

commitment to economic development and revitalization of the area through Project Main Street.

She said the project goes well beyond a clean-up and fix-up of the city. She said aside from federal funding for development and low interest loan pools, the community has made an investment that has created nine new businesses and 26 new jobs.

Filtered-down effects include the city's increased publicity and people spending more money in the community.

The city presented a $5,000 check to parks and playgrounds for the development of the Scott Demboski Memorial Soccerplex. Tom Demboski thanked the city for being the biggest supporter and benefactor of the complex.

The council approved the purchase of a telephone system for the police and fire departments. Councilman Tad Black requested specifications of the systems.

The docket was approved at $212,649.10 for the month of November.

The only bid of $53,000 for a wheelchair lift from Adaptive Engineering Limited was taken under advisement.

The council approved a $500 donation to the Doll and Toy Fund.

The council approved Mayor Eddie Favre's recommended appointment of Richard Flow-ers to the Bay-Waveland School Board for a 5-year term, effective at the first meeting in March 1994, when a seat becomes available.

As recommended by planning and zoning, the council approved the request of Video Depot for a sign variance, as the sign will comply with the commission's upcoming new ordinance.

A request by parks and playgrounds for the construction of two new fields at an estimated cost of $35,000 was taken under advisement to discuss details at a workshop.

CABLE

Gary Evans and Robert Gar-outte, Cablevision representatives told council members that the company is in the process of gathering franchise fees records, as requested by the council.

Evans said the process is taking longer than expected, as Cablevision took over from Multivision in the first part of 1993.

However, after the meeting board attorney John Scaife said all records and correspondence indicate that the same parent company has owned the cable company since 1988, only the name has changed in the early part of this year. He said all records indicate that Cablevision Television Group L.P., took over from Essex in 1988 and has been the parent company ever since.

The council reiterated complaints about outages and customer service, demanding results.

"For five years we've been promised by you and your predecessors that things would get better," Rutherford said.

He said if one more complaint is received, he will demand that a local phone is set up so residents can get in touch with the cable company, as specified in the city's contract.

Residents have had continuous trouble reaching cable representatives at the main office in Gulf Breeze, Florida.

Said councilman Charles Scianna, "We always get the same story. There is something wrong and you need to put your finger on it."

HANCOCK MEDICAL

The council added to the minutes a letter from Hancock Medical Center requesting a traffic light at the intersection of Highway 90 and Drinkwater to enhance the safety of patients and staff at the hospital. The repair of a culvert on Drinkwater was also requested.

The hospital also stated opposition to the possible use of Drinkwater as a main road for casino. The casino's plan for an alternative route from Highway 90 to isolate the casino and alleviate traffic from Blue Meadow Road, is being considered.

OTHER MATTERS

McNeil told council members that the police department has begun arresting anyone with outstanding, unpaid warrants.

The council approved a motion by councilman Charles Scianna that uniform reserve officers supervise fine workers, with six fine workers per reserve officer.

A street closure of the 400 block of Carroll Avenue from 4 to 6 p.m. on Dec. 24 was approved.

The council approved a settlement of $10,000 to be paid in two installments in the Henry Prevou case.

The council announced that Dec. 31 is the last day to apply for the clerk of council position and recessed until Dec. 14.

Soccerplex donation

She said the project goes well beyond a clean-up and fix-up of the city. She said aside from federal funding for development and low interest loan pools, the community has made an investment that has created nine new businesses and 26 new jobs.

Filtered-down effects include the city's increased publicity and people spending more money in the community.

The city presented a $5,000 check to parks and playgrounds for the development of the Scott Demboski Memorial Soccerplex. Tom Demboski thanked the city for being the biggest supporter and benefactor of the complex.

The council approved the purchase of a telephone system

The docket was approved at $212,649.10 for the month of November.

The only bid of $53,000 for a wheelchair lift from Adaptive Engineering Limited was taken under advisement.

The council approved a $500 donation to the Doll and Toy Fund.

The council approved Mayor Eddie Favre's recommended appointment of Richard Flowers to the Bay-Waveland School Board for a 5-year term, effective at the first meeting in March 1994, when a seat becomes available.

As recommended by planning and zoning, the council approved the request of Video Depot for a sign variance, as the sign will comply with the commission's upcoming new ordinance.

CABLE

Gary Evans and Robert Garoutte, Cablevision representatives told council members that the company is in the process of gathering franchise fees records, as requested by the council.

Evans said the process is taking longer than expected, as Cablevision took over from Multivision in the first part of 1993.

However, after the meeting board attorney John Scaffide said all records and correspondence indicate that the same parent company has owned the cable company since 1988, only the name has changed in the early part of this year. He said all records indicate that Cablevision Television Group L.P., or from Essex in 1988 been the parent company since. Council reiterated complaint outages and customer service, demanding results.

"For five years we've been promised by you and your predecessors that things would get better," Rutherford said.

He said if one more complaint is received, he will demand that a local phone is set up so residents can get in touch with the cable company, as specified in the city's contract.

Residents have had continuous trouble reaching cable representatives at the main office in Gulf Breeze, Florida.

Said councilman Charles Scianna, "We always get the same story. There is something wrong and you need to put your finger on it."

HANCOCK MEDICAL

The council added to the minutes a letter from Hancock Medical Center requesting a traffic light at the intersection of Highway 90 and Drinkwater to enhance the safety of patients and staff at the hospital. The repair of a culvert on Drinkwater was also requested.

The hospital also stated opposition to the possible use of Drinkwater as a main road for casino. The casino's plan for an alternative route from Highway 90 to isolate the casino and alleviate traffic from Blue Meadow Road, is being considered.

OTHER MATTERS

McNeil told council members that the police department has begun arresting anyone with outstanding, unpaid warrants.

The council approved a motion by councilman Charles Scianna that uniform reserve officers supervise fine workers, with six fine workers per reserve officer.

A street closure of the 400 block of Carroll Avenue from 4 to 6 p.m. on Dec. 24 was approved.

The council approved a settlement of $10,000 to be paid in two installments in the Henry Prevou case.

The council announced that Dec. 31 is the last day to apply for the clerk of council position and recessed until Dec. 14.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Tuesday marked the 52nd anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

As the old saying goes, how fast we seem to forget, appears to have happened this year.

There has been very little on television, radio and newspapers on the major story of this century.

I received two telephone calls from friends expressing their disappointment in the lack of publicity this year.

I have had the privilege over the years to do exclusive interviews with two who were at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attacked on Dec. 7, 1941. Both were Navy career men.

One of those was done two years ago with Kenneth (Ken) McKenna of Waveland, who was blown from the deck of the Arizona.

Ken died this past Sunday of cancer, and a memorial service was held for him on Wednesday.

William (Bill) Sanders of Bay St. Louis was on the USS Curtis, a seaplane tender just across Ford Island from the Arizona. His ship was hit during the raid, and he was injured.

I talked to Sanders, and he too mentioned how little publicity there was on the beginning of World War II for America.

One telephone call I received was from Henry Otis. Otis was a radio man on the USS Hornet, which so happened to have been christened on Dec. 7, 1941.

Otis was still a radio man on the Hornet when the famous Gen. Jimmy Doolittle raid was made on Tokyo in 1942.

By the way, Gen. Doolittle died just a few months ago.

Hopefully Americans will not forget the tragedies of wars and remember those who gave their lives for the freedoms we have today.

We need to remember those who served our country during World War II, and every man and woman who has ever worn an American uniform during wars and even peace time.

I almost needed 'smelling salts' when I checked my Bay St. Louis utility bill for my residence last Friday.

I saw that big $835 for the month and knew something must have been wrong since the previous month's bill was only $37.

In checking the statement, I saw a charge of $372 for water and $420 for wastewater. I know something must have been afool, because we would have had to constantly flush our toilet to have used that volume of water.

A trip to the utility department at Bay City Hall revealed incorrect information had been entered into the computer for my account.

Anyway, there is a big difference between $50 and $829.

Don't forget, the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Business After Hours will be held tonight at Adams Loraine Flower Shop, 315 Ulman Avenue, Bay St. Louis. The hours are from 5 to 7 p.m.

This is a good time for business and friends to get together, exchange business cards and have good conversation.

The After Hours is sponsored by Adams Loraine Flower Shop, and there will be refreshments.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's annual Red Ribbon Christmas parade is once again scheduled for Saturday and it is set for 1 p.m.

Last week the parade and benefit football game had to be canceled because of rain.

A table is once again to be set up at the corner of Beach Boulevard and Highway 90 for registration.

Registrations for parade entries will be from 11 to noon and all participants are asked to use Second Street, so they will be facing in the proper direction.

The big parade's route will be Beach Boulevard to Main Street, Main to Dunbar Avenue, Dunbar to Highland Drive, Highland to the J.D. McCullough Stadium.

The Operation Merry Christmas flag football game between the Sheriff's Department and Bay St. Louis Police Department is scheduled following the parade.

Admission is one Christmas toy per person.

I hope to see you at the parade and football game Saturday.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Allow prayer in our schools again

To the Editor:

To all the children who are sincerely wanting prayer back in school, I say — go for the gusto!

Write every congressman and senator in your state, and any others you can, together with one to the President, urging them to get the Supreme Court to reverse their decision.

We, who want prayer in school, have rights, too. Talk about discrimination! There are more believers in this country than those who don't, and we want prayer back in school.

The "children" are bringing guns and knives into the schools, and these are things that hurt or kill. Did prayer ever hurt anyone?

I believe that the overall disposition of the student body in every classroom would be improved if students and their teachers were allowed to pray each morning.

Whether you believe in God or not, surely those who object to prayer in school could not object to the classrooms returning to a place of learning and safety, like they should be.

Believe me, prayer changes things, and our schools and some students drastically need some change.

Lois Crippie
Waveland

Students should be allowed to pray

To the Editor:

I was proud to see we have at least one principal in our state who had the courage and the love for God and his students to allow his students to say a prayer in school.

A am also proud to see we have a governor, who is not a lawyer and loves God and his state, to take a stand for what is right.

We all know what has happened to our schools since we took God out. We have prayer in each of our legislative houses, and most all public meetings are opened with prayer.

Why can't we offer a few minutes to all our students for a prayer to open each school day?

We can pray to God without singling out any religion. Every student should have the right to pray to their own God or be allowed to leave the room or not participate at that time if they should choose.

I think if we are going to bring our schools back, we need to put God and discipline back in and take out the sex and guns.

This will not happen until we, the people, stand up and say 'enough is enough' and take our schools back.

I think it is time we rally behind the principal who was fired in Jackson.

We should get our pickets out and picket our local schools until our education system is back in line.

When I see the condition of our education and justice systems, I know if something is not done soon, we, the people, will lose both.

We elect our officers to make changes, and after they are elected they join the old crowd and blend in with them. I would like to see how many people are interested in these changes.

NAFTA sells U.S. down the river

To the Editor:

National syndicated columnist Charley Reese recently said: "Anyone who supports NAFTA is an enemy of the American people and their families. It's time to start drawing the lines, not in Kuwait or Somalia, but on American soil."

I would go so far as to say that any representative or senator who voted in favor of the North American Free Trade Agreement should be run out of office in disgrace.

We are a people, before we are consumers; we want to be a people, not a market for world products. The object behind NAFTA is not to help America but to instill in our people the feeling that we must consume and obey!

That's what the transnational corporations and their lackeys in Washington, D.C. want you to do. You don't have to farm your land, let the big corporations take care of that. It's beneath your dignity to be a farmer.

The elite in Washington, D.C., run by the Hillary Bill crowd, want you to embrace their new religion of globalism. Become a world citizen, is their watchword! Who needs the Stars and Stripes? Eliminate the borders, become one with the Third World.

Bill Clinton tells us that NAFTA "is what free enterprise is all about!" But is it wise to learn about free enterprise from an avowed socialist such as Bill Clinton? I think not.

NAFTA is not for the benefit of the American people and American businesses, but for culture capitalism!

It's not a treaty to better America, but to sell us out to transnational financiers who have been living off our life blood for at least 50 years. They are not satisfied with our debt of trillions, which is owed mostly to them.

They want the whole "pie." They want to be the world boss. They want America to be a big "chocolate mess" of humanity who when told to jump will ask "how high?" They will not be satisfied with anything but total control.

Syndicated columnist Marianne Means hits the nail on the head when she says: "They say it will be for the 'greater good' of America. Is it greater good when we are forced to pay higher taxes, dole out foreign aid, and continue feeding the insatiable domestic welfare beast that's zapping our productivity and making our city streets uninhabitable? A NAFTA-ized world will dramatically expand the gringo-subsidized welfare state, melding our domestic troubles with the international." I say the time to end this treason is now!

NAFTA will mean the surrendering of American sovereignty, forever, into the hands of supra-international bureaucrats; authority and powers the Founding Fathers said should remain in the hands of the American people.

I didn't fight in two big wars to see America "sold down the river." How about you?

Sincerely,
Jack Mohr,
Col. U.S. Army, Ret.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Voters demand spending cuts

In the waning days of the first session of the 103rd Congress, my colleagues and I were given the chance to cut $90 billion in federal spending over the next five years. I am disappointed to say, we blew it. The bill, known as the Penny-Kasich amendment, was defeated by the slim margin of six votes.

If the bill had passed, the cuts would have been real, and they would have been painful. I admit the bill contained a few spending reductions that I would have preferred to exclude, but I felt that there was no other alternative for those of us who are committed to reducing the deficit.

This year thousands of South Mississippians have written me, called me and stopped me on the street to ask me to "cut spending first." I supported the Penny-Kasich amendment because it was the most sensible spending reduction package offered this year.

We must remember that the future success or failure of our nation will be determined by how we address our national debt and our yearly budget deficits. America currently has a national debt of 4.42 trillion, that is $4,422,511,000,000. The budget deficit for fiscal year 1993 is $254 billion. The interest payment on the national debt is $294 billion this year.

Every day our nation sinks $1 billion deeper in debt. Every day more of your tax dollars are squandered on interest on the debt. This madness must stop!

If we truly intend to steer our nation toward fiscal sanity, we must be willing to accept the consequences. Thousands of South Mississippians have told me that they are willing to accept the consequences. And I believe their demands are sincere when they ask me to do whatever it takes to reduce our nation's debt.

I appreciate all those South Mississippians who have encouraged me while I attempt to persuade my colleagues that our debt is ruining this great nation.

FIRE DEPT. NOTICE
The Diamondhead Fire Department reminds us about changing the batteries on our smoke alarms. This should have been done when you changed your clocks Oct. 31. The Christmas season is upon us, and overloaded electrical circuits with added lights, Christmas trees, space heaters being used, etc., the need for an early warning is a must in case of fire.

We commend fire training officer Capt. Brian Adam for his efforts in recruiting needed volunteers for our department. He is presently training 17 people, five of these as dispatchers. We have four women in the group. We are so grateful to all involved in this first-class operation, our Diamondhead Fire Department.

SECURITY REQUEST
Diamondhead Security asks that all Diamondhead POA members have appropriate stickers on their vehicles. Please see Syble at the POA office to obtain one, and if the vehicle is sold, please remove the sticker and notify the POA office.

ATTENTION
Coast Electric pole inspection crews will be doing work in Diamondhead in December. This is part of routine maintenance, and these inspections are conducted to help evaluate pole deterioration and other hazardous line conditions. Mr. Don Moran, the company's manager of general services, assures residents finding a hole dug around a power pole in their yard, that the crews will re-cover the excavation spot when they complete the inspection and treatment. Anyone having questions may call Mr. Moran at 467-6535.

OUR OWN MD

Hancock County Chamber of Commerce honored David McDonald Sr. as their Citizen of the Year, and Jon Ritten, owner of Coast Delta Realty, with the fourth annual Community Pride award at their Christmas banquet Friday, Dec. 3 at the Diamondhead Country Club.

Upon presenting the 'Pride Award' David Treutel Jr. said this award is given for continued commitment to community service, community development and beautification, and tonight's recipient, Jon Ritten, has gone above and beyond in all these areas. He has been instrumental in the growth of Diamondhead in many ways.

Lifelong Bay St. Louis resident, Mr. McDonald's long list of business and civic contributions tell of his community involvement over many years. Hats off, and we salute you gentlemen! Keep up the good work.

NEWCOMERS

The annual Christmas luncheon is Friday, Dec. 17, 11:30 a.m. at Days Inn. Those "wild and crazy gals" remind us (members only) that "the sound of carols fills the air, holly wreaths are everywhere... it's Christmas. Send your checks for $7 to Evelyn Kibler, 6525 Koula Dr., Diamondhead.

OUR PETS

Another professional in our community, Dr. Sandra Robertson of the Diamondhead Animal Hospital across from the Days Inn, announces the completion of seven years in Diamondhead and thanks all of her loyal clients.

She plans to continue providing a conscientious and honest practice of veterinary medical care.

A reminder to love and protect your animal friends — please spay or neuter.

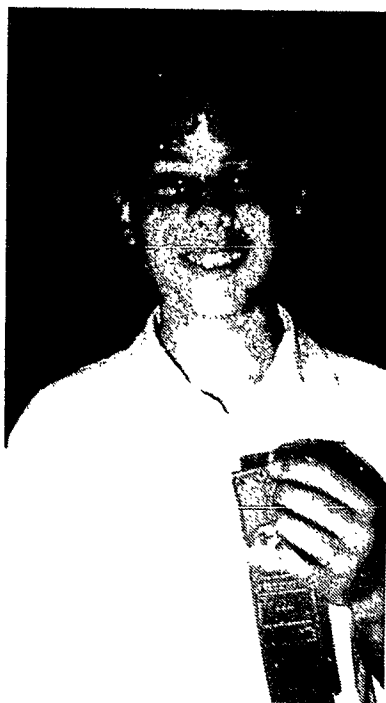

ACADEMY HAPPENINGS

Congratulations to Trevor Farnsworth, a sixth grade student at Diamondhead Academy, who placed in the third annual Academic Competition for Excellence held Dec. 4 at St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis.

Diamondhead Academy students were among the 540 fifth, sixth and seventh graders from 42 schools who participated in the ACE competition.

After the 50-minute test, while tests were scored, the students enjoyed lunch at St. Stanislaus and entertainment provided by the SSC band and the SSC Barbershop Quartet.

Each participant received a certificate of participation. First, second and third place trophies were awarded to grade level winners for each academic area.

Trevor is the son of Sharon and Kent Farnsworth of Diamondhead.

HERE AND THERE

Peter J. Casano, president of the Diamondhead POA says, "Contrary to the recent Bay Journal editorial, our community is healing well. We do not have a problem here, we do have differences of opinions."

At the Oct. 15 open board meeting it was decided that the board was not interested in spreading the same old accuse-and-deny comments around and would not comment on the litigation with BEGIN.

This announcement brought unanimous applause from the membership. We do commend those folks who are trying to get "our paradise" back to normal and working for the betterment of all of the community. Ya'll know who you are.

THOUGHTS TO SHARE

This is the time of year when we exchange gifts of love and caring. What we give out is what we get back!

To lessen holiday stresses, give without expecting anything in return, not even a thank you. This can best be accomplished by giving in secret. It makes you feel so good inside. Try it — you'll like it!

MY THOUGHTS

Laugh a lot, for a good sense of humor cures almost all of life's ills. Don't use time or words carelessly, neither can be retrieved. And smile, for smiles are contagious.

Have a happy week.

The sound of Christmas

Bay Area Chorale, Jefferson Symphony Orchestra and Chorus plan special concert at Bay High Sunday

Diamondhead Performing Arts Society invites the family to take a holiday musical journey Sunday afternoon with the Jefferson Symphony Orchestra, the Jefferson Symphony Chorus and the locally formed Bay Area Chorale as they perform traditional Christmas favorites from Around the World.

The program will include O Holy Night, Greensleeves, and a rousing rendition of the popular poem 'Twas the Night Before Christmas, narrated with orchestral accompaniment.

The program will include soloists, chorale renditions, plus some audience "sing-along" participation.

Guest artist Patricia Corbett, soprano, has been hailed by the New York Times as a singer with a "lively stage personality and sparkling vocalism."

A highlight of her operatic engagement includes a stunning performance before an audience of more than 15,000 in which she made her New York City debut as Violetta in Vincent La Selva's Central Park Production of La Traviata.

The Bay Area Chorale was formed from a nucleus of individuals and choir members in the Bay area. It was initiated by the Diamondhead Performing Arts Society and is under the direction of Joy Mehrtens, executive director, and Phil Smith, associate director.

The chorale is currently developing into a professional entity. Curtis Stout serves as liaison to the Diamondhead Performing Arts Society to the fledgling organization.

The Chorale is comprised of volunteers who give of their time and talents because of their love of singing and their desire to offer music to the Gulf Coast communities.

The Jefferson Symphony Chorus debuted in Carnegie Hall on May 10, 1993 under the direction of conductor Dennis G. Assaf. This chorus was the first affiliate and the catalyst for the formation of the Jefferson Performing Arts Society.

Dennis Assaf, concert master, holds a bachelor of music education degree from Loyola University and a master of music in conducting from the University of New Orleans.

Assaf is founding director of the highly recognized Jefferson Performing Arts Society. Among his numerous conducting credits, his major accomplishment thus far has been his creation of his own professional symphony orchestra, which has virtually changed the cultural aura of his community.

Christmas Around the World will be presented Sunday, December 12 at 3 p.m. at the Bay High School auditorium on Blue Meadow Road. Tickets (adults, $10; children, $7) may be purchased at Diamondhead Discount Drugs.

For additional information, call Lori Darkow at 255-4433.

Double your fun. This black beauty takes two with real class. The adjustable seat is a special feature that accommodates two people. The flexible hand-hold is convenient for passengers of many sizes and the padded nerf bars give the riders a feeling of being part of the machine. That seat has real automotive styling with its high back comfort and pleated cover over a dense foam cushion. There's a lot of special engineering from the passenger's foot guard to drop frame and wide track design. The parking brake is unique, too. It sets easily.

You start the engine, get in and a simple foot tap releases the brake, and your off. A great safety idea from Manco.

Learning to cope in the emerging cashless society

By Janet Lukens
Area Consumer Money
Management Specialist

I spent most of the month of November working on the 1993 national conference for the Association of Financial Counseling and Planning Education.

This year's conference focused on changes these educators and their students are facing including changes in our economy and personal finances.

One of the most insidious and widespread area of change is certainly in the use of plastic as opposed to paper. Paper money and paper checks are passe and becoming obsolete. Their replacements are credit and debit cards.

Credit has permeated our lives but we have not learned to effectively cope with it. Two-thirds of all credit card holders are referred to as revolvers. They keep a balance on credit cards and therefore, pay finance charges every month on their credit cards.

Though some credit card interest rates have dropped, companies are inventing new fees that keep profits high and consumers confused. As consumers trade cards more to get a better deal, creditors will begin charging to close accounts.

For those who don't carry a balance, monthly fees may be assessed on the credit limit, not the credit used.

Some of the most expensive current costs are late fees and over limit fees. They run $15 and $20 per month for small indiscretions, like sending a $20 payment one day late.

Our children are the newest target market for card companies. Students in high school and college are bombarded with credit card offers before they have income to pay the bills.

Most often, it is parents who pay.

And the student who waives the opportunity for easy credit while in school, may be faced with a "Catch 22" dilemma after graduation. As soon as the young adult obtains a job with steady income, credit criteria changes. Suddenly the empty credit file becomes a hindrance and credit may be very difficult to obtain.

Though the debit card, most frequently used as an ATM card, may be less dangerous than credit cards in respect to accumulating debt, there are still pitfalls.

The debit card replaces the paper check. It may be used at an ATM terminal but also may be used in "point of sale" transactions at some retail stores.

An advantage to the debit card is that money is pulled automatically from the consumer's bank account. The debit card user does not go into debt.

Disadvantages include transaction fees that may occur at both the store and the financial institution. Charges on a debit card cannot be disputed as with a credit card. If a debit card is lost and not properly reported, liability can be almost unlimited.

As we move toward a cashless society we can only hope that "cashless" simply refers to the form our money takes not the state of being in debt and out of cash.

Al Pressman

Pressman cited by Vice-President Gore

Albert E. Pressman of Kiln was recognized by Vice-President Al Gore for his contributions to the Environmental Task Force (ETF), a program initiated by Gore several years ago. Pressman is head of the Remote Sensing Applications Group at the Naval Research Laboratory (NRL), Stennis Space Center.

The letter read, in part: "When I initiated the process that led to the ETF... I was motivated by the hope the assets of the national security community would prove to be of value to environmental scientists."

"Due in large measure to your efforts as participant on the Ocean Productivity, Circulation, and Air-Sea Exchange Panel, we are beginning to see the fulfillment of that hope. "Drawing on the findings and recommendations from your report, I anticipate that we will be able to chart a path that will clarify the key environmental issues that confront our society and lead to the formation of wise policies to ameliorate those problems. The nation truly owes you a debt of gratitude for your participation."

The New York native earned his master's degree in geophys-ics from Boston College and worked with the United States Air Force, Texas Instruments, Lockheed Corporation, and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) before joining NRL in 1975.

Pressman is widely published in his field, is a member of the American Society of Photogrammetry and Remote Sensing, received the Bronze Medal for commendable service from the EPA, and was one of last year's winners of NRL's prestigious Alan Berman Research Publication Award.

Bay High JROTC

Cadets visit Air National Guard

Special to the Echo
By Zach Corbell

The Bay High Air Force JROTC showed their true colors when they visited the Air National Guard in Gulfport.

Under the supervision and guidance of Major Joe Mariotti and Senior Master Sergeant Jim Thornhill, the Mississippi-934 JROTC was invited to see what the Air National Guard has to offer to today's youth.

As JROTC cadets viewed the equipment and facilities, the sense of closeness and cooperation that was exhibited by the Air National Guardsmen appealed to many of the young men and women who participated in the trip.

The course, which has been deemed a military science class, teaches many important principles, such as discipline, integrity and positive attitude.

JROTC also focuses on maturing many of the leadership skills that most students do not realize they possess. With such activities as drill, color guard and community service projects, each cadet is given the chance to serve as well as supervise. This gives each cadet a feeling of importance and belonging. In the classroom, students learn about the history of aeronautics and aerospace technology. As a first-year program at Bay High, seniors are only getting a taste of what the program has to offer, but for many freshmen, sophomores and juniors the program will increase their knowledge and prepare them for their educational and career aspirations. Some 200 Bay High students are participating in the project.

SEC recognizes Leo Seal Jr.

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Leo W. Seal Jr. of Bay St. Louis recently received recognition as one of the "Living Legends of the Southeastern Conference."

Seal received the award at the Southeastern Conference Championship celebration on Friday. He was Mississippi State University's representative for the award.

Each of the 12 schools in the conference selected a representative to receive the award at a banquet before the championship football game in Birmingham, Alabama.

Seal played tackle for the Bulldogs under Coach Allen McCain during the years of 1942 and 1946-48.

During the years that Seal played, Mississippi State did not have a losing season and went 31-10-3.

Seal commented, "The award is a football award, but not only a football award. It recognizes men who have played football in the past and have been successful in their business and professional endeavors after leaving school."

He continued, "Also, it recognizes those who have made contributions to the welfare of the community in which they reside."

Seal is Chairman of the Board and CEO of Hancock Bank.

Tigers fall to Hornets

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
The Bay High Tigers dropped two games to the East Central Hornets in Wade-Hurley on November 30.

In junior varsity action, the Tigers played ice cold in the first half and had top play catch up ball in the second while dropping a 40-22 decision to the Hornets.

Jermaine Collins led the offensive attack with 6 points. David Young came off the bench to give a spark to the Tigers while scoring 5 points.

Reggie Williams was outstanding on defense forcing several Hornet turnovers.

VARSITY

In varsity action, the Tigers lost to the Hornets by the score of 74-50.

The Tigers couldn't find the basket in the first half; however, they came back and fought hard to play on even terms in the second, said Coach Barney Necaie. The Tigers matched the Hornet output 35-35 in the second half.

The Tigers were led by Gearld Watson who canned 17 points followed by Lee Morris with 10 points.

On the defensive side of the ball, Robert Vonture pulled down 13 rebounds to go with 7 points.

The seventh grade Hawks dismantled the Yellow Jackets by the score of 38-10.

The eighth grade Hawks toppled the visiting Yellow Jackets by the score of 31-22.

Junior Rocks take 2 from Hancock Hawks

The seventh grade Rocks defeated the Hawks by the score of 37-24. Sean Barta, Tony Benton and Brantly Ladner led the defensive attack that kept the Hawks off balance.

The eighth grade Rocks won a close 38-37 decision over the Hawks in the second game of the night. The Rocks overcame a six point fourth quarter deficit to win.

The ninth grade Rocks lost a nip and tuck ballgame to a strong Hawk team by the score

SSC 2nd annual basketball extravaganza set

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
High school basketball action will heat up this Friday as the tradition rich Brother Martin Crusaders of New Orleans will invade the Brother Peter Memorial Gym to battle the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws.

This is the second annual SSC basketball extravaganza. Last year's event featured Jesuit High School of New Orleans. Jesuit was triumphant in last year's nip and tuck ball game with the Rocks.

The night will tipoff with the SSC eighth grade Rocks playing against Biloxi-Fernwood Junior High. The eighth grade is cruising along with a 7-1 record.

In the second game of the night, the SSC junior varsity squad will tangle with the Brother Martin Crusaders' junior varsity squad at 6:30 p.m.

In the finale of the evening, the varsity Rocks will go to battle with the Crusaders at 7:45 p.m.

Coach Jay Ladner commented, "I think this year's extravaganza will be bigger than last year. Brother Martin is also a Brothers of the Sacred Heart school. This is our sister school from New Orleans. It should be a good game."

There are advanced tickets that can be purchased at the school.

Following the game, there will be a spirit dance in the gym.

Jerry Spell, SSC athletic director, said that the tickets are moving pretty fast and a sellout is a possibility.

Rocks split with Hornets

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
The varsity Rocks gained a division win against the East Central Hornets on Friday.

In junior varsity action, the Hornets defeated the Rocks 64-47.

The Rocks just couldn't overcome a second half surge by the Hornets that saw them outscored 36-23.

Leading the offensive attack for SSC was sophomore forward Brian Thigpen with 19 points, followed by Kelton Thompson and David McGuiness with 9 points each.

On November 30, the junior varsity Rocks defeated the Long Beach Bearcats 76-70.

Captain Kelton Thompson led the offensive blitzkrieg with a game high 24 points and 7 steals. He was followed by David McGuiness, who chipped in 16 points and 5 steals.

On the defensive side of the ball, Marcel Singleton played solid ball having several key breakups and steals to stymie the Bearcat offense.

In varsity action against the Hornets, the Rocks defeated East Central 67-58.

The Rocks held a commanding 47-38 third period lead. The Rocks played defensive ball in the fourth period while scoring even points with the Hornets 20-20 in the final frame.

Coach Jay Ladner commented, "This was a good win for us. It evened our division record at 1-1."

BHS Tigers jump past Blue Devils

Bay High came away from the basketball game against Pearl River Central Tuesday night with their second win of the season.

Robbie Lumpkin made the winning basket for a final score of 62-60.

Top scorer was Gerald Watson with 17 points. Robert Vonture scored 13 points, Ricky Soldini with 12 points and Lydell Haynes with 9 points.

Watson and Vonture led rebounding with 16 and 9 each. Vonture had four steals.

Coach Barney Necaie called the game "a great win for a young Tiger team."

"The Tigers got off to a quick start tonight and played with great determination and hustle as they led most of the way," he said.

The Tigers will play the Hancock Hawks next, on Dec. 9 at 8:30 p.m.

The Rocks were led by Terry Lawyer with 23 points while Vince Moran chipped in 21 points. Hector Hernandez rounded out the double figure scoring with 14 points.

SSC places third in tourney

The St. Stanislaus varsity soccer team placed third in the Vanderbilt Catholic Tournament over the Thanksgiving holidays.

The team defeated West Jefferson by the score of 5-1; beat H. L. Bourgeois 2-0; and defeated Ponchatoula by the score 3-2. SSC tied Episcopal of Acadiana 1-1.

SSC also suffered their first defeat of the season to De LaSalle of New Orleans by the score of 3-1. The varsity record is now 6-1-1.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

Bass, sac-a-lait abundant in Bayou La Croix

It's time to go fishin' y'all. The Turtle checked out the Bayou LaCroix Marina this past week to get some news as to what is happening on the fresh water scene. I must say that some unique and interesting people were able to give me some information at this place.

The first person I interviewed was a man named Paul. He did not give me a last name. Paul said that he has been doing a number on the bass and sac-a-lait with shiners. He said that he "catches the fish in a pond up there somewhere in Yankee country." His definition of Yankee country is anything above I-10.

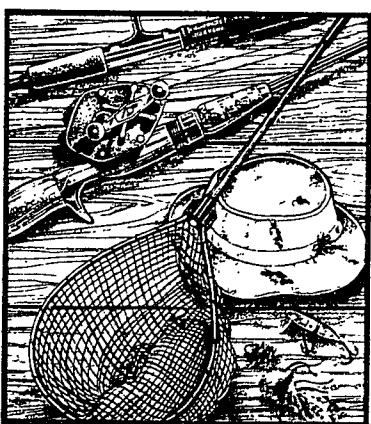

Bob Reynolds said he lost a big one right in the bayou. He was using a 25-pound anchor for a hook and half inch nylon for a line. He did not tell me what type of bait he was using, but he did say that the "big one broke the line."

A lady by the name of Tony says that she catches all of the fish that she wants just by fishing right out of the kitchen window. Her catch supposedly includes bass, bream, alligator gars and eels.

Another lady by the name of Inez said that she does not need to go to any type of exercise since Tony has been catching the eels. It seems that the eels like to wrap around Inez so she moves rather quickly out of the area whenever an eel is landed.

Finally, the Turtle got to talk to Rita. She gave me some legitimate fishin' information. It seems that the bass and the sac-a-lait are indeed biting in the Bayou LaCroix area. They have not schooled up, but you can catch 4 or 5 in a spot. If you move around you can at least catch a fair mess of perch for supper. Best bait, live shiners.

Bayou LaCroix Marina is located on Hwy. 603 right as the road crosses Bayou LaCroix. It is about 2 or 3 miles from Hwy. 90 in Waveland. They have a concrete launch ramp and offer tackle, live and dead bait and some "interesting" fishin' advice.

ULMAN PIER

While doing the interview at this place two men came in to buy packs of frozen bait shrimp. I asked them their names and where they were catching the fish. They called themselves Charles McDaniels and Norman Allen. It seems that they have been murdering the fish each night out on the Ulman Street pier.

They stated they mopped up on sheephead and drum right by the pilings Saturday night. Friday night they put the ants on the white trout fishing on the bottom with dead shrimp on a jig head.

The Ulman Street pier is the longest public pier in the Hancock County area. It is well lighted and offers some excellent fishing. This is especially true at night. For some reason the night fishing has always been better on this pier than the day fishing.

The only drawback to fishing this pier is if you want to go all the way to the end you might as well bring your hiking shoes and a box lunch. It is also a good idea to bring along a pair of binoculars so you can see shore from the end of the pier.

I am still getting persistent reports from the folks who fish the Louisiana Marsh area to the effect that this has been the best year anyone can ever remember for speckled trout.

Quite a few of the fishermen seem to think that the 12-inch size limit has been beneficial to the speckled trout population.

Others attribute the vast increases in the numbers of speckled trout to the tougher restrictions on commercial fishing of speckled trout in Louisiana waters. What ever the reasons, it is gratifying to see the large increases in the numbers of this good tasting, hard-fighting fish.

Before I get away from the fishing in Louisiana waters, I gotta report that Tommy Kidd and friends went out to the deep water oil rigs and caught their limit of red snapper within a half hour's time. Tommy said that they caught at least three or four times that number and had a ball utilizing "catch and release."

I need to remind the fishin' buddies again of the trout study that is going on in our area. Please help by reporting your trout catch on the simple form that is provided by Gulf Coast Research Laboratories.

It is called the Spotted Seatrout Information Sheet. You can obtain these sheets by calling (601) 872-4282 or writing to Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, P.O. Box 7000, Ocean Springs, MS 39566.

This week's wonderful wise words: Pier fishin' can be done without a boat!

Do you think we should send the men in the white coats to the Bayou LaCroix Marina, Turtle?

The Bob Harmon Forecast

NFL Forecast for Sunday and Monday Dec. 11-13

N.Y. Jets, 22--Washington, 16
(Saturday) The Jets and Redskins have met four times, most recently in 1987, and Washington has won all four. This year, though, the Skins' defense can't stop anybody, let alone the Jets' improving offense.

San Francisco, 34--Atlanta, 21
In a defenseless battle the third week of the season, the 49ers, led by Steve Young's three TD passes and 268 yards of rushing, beat the Falcons 37-30. That was as close as Atlanta will get.

Buffalo, 23--Philadelphia, 19
(Sunday) This game comes in the middle of a five-week-long gut check for the Bills, in between matchups with the Chiefs and Raiders and the Dolphins and Jets. Buffalo beat the Eagles 30-23 in '90.

Chicago, 17--Tampa Bay, 14
When the Bears and Buccaneers met in September, Chicago scored four TD's in the second quarter, forced seven T.B. turnovers and routed the Bucs 47-17. The score was a fluke; the result was not.

Dallas, 29--Minnesota, 20
These two teams haven't met since the Vikings destroyed the Cowboys 43-3 five years ago; this time the winner, if not the score, will be reversed. Minnesota's hope is that its D will keep it close.

*Denver, 27--Kansas City, 24
On a Monday night in September, the Broncos and Chiefs played a penalty-marred, surprisingly low-scoring game, K.C. winning 15-7 with five Nick Lowery field goals. Denver will score more at home.

Green Bay, 24--San Diego, 23
A mystery game, between teams that haven't met in nine years. Neither has much offense, so the difference will be the Packers' defense and their state of mind: They're in a division race.

*Houston, 26--Cleveland, 16
Three weeks ago Oiler running back Gary Brown ran for 194 yards — more than Warren Moon passed for — to lead Houston to a 27-20 win over the Browns. The Oilers are finally getting it together.

*L.A. Raiders, 14--Seattle, 13
In the second week of the season the Raiders' Anthony Smith sacked the Seahawks' Rick Mirer four times as L.A. beat Seattle 17-13. The Raiders have a great defense; the Hawks have no offense.

*New England, 18--Cincinnati, 10
After being pummeled in recent weeks by most of the league's best teams, its two worst may just play a great game. Look for N.E.'s Drew Bledsoe, one of the QB's of the future, to take charge.

*New Orleans, 21--L.A. Rams, 12
The Saints had an easy time with the Rams 10 weeks ago, never allowing L.A. within 20 yards of the end zone and winning 37-6. N.O. was playing better then than now, but the Rams are the same Rams.

*N.Y. Giants, 28--Indianapolis, 14
The Giants last played the Colts in '90, winning 24-7. N.Y. has a powerhouse running game, against which Indianapolis may be helpless. About all the Colts can do is pass—N.Y.'s defensive strength.

*Phoenix, 27--Detroit, 21
When the Cardinals and Lions met in Detroit, the Lions overcame Phoenix QB Steve Beuerlein's hot passing to win 26-20. Despite their records, they're closely matched; the home field looms large.

*Miami, 30--Pittsburgh, 23
(Monday) The Dolphins have won six of their last eight games against the Steelers. Miami has the offense, Pittsburgh has the defense, and with both in tight AFC division races, this could be a wild one.

The December 11 meeting between the two alumni teams has been rescheduled for the spring. The reason for the postponement has been cited as "unforeseen difficulties."

SSC bows to Biloxi; defeats St. Paul

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus junior varsity and varsity basketball teams dropped two games at Biloxi High on November 20.

In junior varsity action, the Rocks dropped a close 61-52 decision to Biloxi. Biloxi jumped out to a 31-17 halftime lead with a fast breaking offense. The Rocks cut the lead in the third quarter by being outscored only 18-13.

The Rocks were led by sophomore guard Kelton Thompson who had 18 points followed by Juman Peterson who chipped in 10 points.

VARSITY

In varsity action, the Rocks fell to the Indians by the score of 67-56.

The game was much closer than the score shows. With about 1:35 to go, the Indians went on a 10-point surge that made the 11 point spread.

Coach Jay Ladner commented, "We played great ball tonight. We showed that we can play with one of the top ten teams in the state. I am proud of my boys. They played hard all night and never gave up."

It was a close game all the way with the halftime score being 33-29 in favor of the Indians. The Rocks were down 1 point entering the fourth period. However, the Rocks were outscored 16-6 in the final period to make the difference.

COVINGTON WIN

The varsity team defeated St. Paul's of Covington 76-61 on November 23.

The Rocks set the tone early in the game by taking a first period lead of 16-12 and never losing control of the game.

The halftime stats showed SSC on top 35-21.

Cooks

stir until blended. Cook 2 minutes, stirring. Mixture will be very dry. Stir in cream, thyme, cayenne, black pepper, salt and lemon juice, stirring to blend in all of flour.

Reduce heat to low; cook 5 minutes or until thickened. Pre-heat oven to 350F (175C). Place patty shells on an ungreased baking sheet; fill each with mushroom filling. Top with a little Parmesan cheese and 1/4 teaspoon butter or margarine. Bake in preheated oven until filling is bubbly, 10 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 24 appetizers.

SUN-DRIED TOMATO SPREAD

This is a sinfully delicious party food. The spread will keep up to 3 days.

1 1/2 oz. dried tomatoes
1 cup olive oil
2 large garlic cloves

2 parsley sprigs
5 basil leaves or 1 teaspoon dried leaf basil
1/4 teaspoon red (cayenne) pepper
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pinch of sugar
1 green onion, coarsely chopped
2 (4-oz.) goat-cheese rounds
Cayenne Toasts or crackers

To rehydrate dried tomatoes, place tomatoes on a steamer rack over simmering water until tomatoes are completely soft and have no hard spots, about 45 minutes. Check water level often to keep bottom of steamer from drying out.

Place steamed tomatoes in a 2-cup container with a tight-fitting lid. Add all remaining ingredients except goat cheese and toast or crackers. Cover container; shake to blend ingredients.

Refrigerate 2 days to blend flavors. To serve, in a food processor fitted with the steel blade, process contents of container until almost smooth, leaving some texture. Place goat cheese on 1 or 2 serving dishes, pour tomato spread over cheese. Use small knives to spread on Cayenne Toasts or crackers. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1993

The geese have their own closet with some 45-50 outfits

Attention-getting geese dress for every occasion

BY AMY PICKICH

Gemma Harris of Waveland is a doting grandmother of 17 and great-grandmother of 6, but she has two geese in her front yard that also get special attention.

She dresses them every day—rain or shine—in outfits for every occasion. She even keeps slickers and raingear inside her front door, just in case it rains.

If you pass her home on Pine Ridge Road some mornings around 7, you may get caught in a traffic jam. A crowd of passers-by and school children walking to their bus gather to see what the two stone geese are wearing each day.

"It is so comical," said friend Mildred Means, who sings in the church choir with Harris. "And she is such a delightful person."

"I make it a point to go that way on my way home so I can see what they are wearing," Means said.

Each outfit is complete with hair made of yarn, glasses and accessories for her two special geese, Gertrude and Gilda.

On Thursday one was wearing a gardening outfit and carrying a water pail; the other a cooking outfit, complete with apron and frying pan.

Harris briefly changed them into their New Orleans Saints uniforms to pose for a picture. But they haven't worn their outfits much, she admitted, with the way the Saints have been playing lately.

She said she only has one helmet between the two geese and is desperately searching for another, just the right size, to complete the ensemble.

The geese have their own closet in her house, which is filled with about 50 outfits. They have outfits for every occasion from Christmas to Mardi Gras to St. Patrick's Day. They even have a bridal and gambling outfits.

"I've had more fun dressing them," said Harris, who has been dressing the geese for two of the four years she has lived in Waveland.

"The only thing is when I go out of town, I have to get a neighbor to dress them," she said. "The last time I went out of town, people thought I was sick or had died because their outfits weren't changed." Harris, who is originally from Dayton, Ohio, said some people may think her hobby is strange, but in Dayton all of her neighbors did the same. It was so popular that it became a competition to see whose geese had the best outfits.

Amazingly, she said no one has ever bothered her geese. With all the attention the geese receive, it would be impossible.

Left, as she changes the geese's outfits every morning, passers-by frequently stop to take a gander at what they are wearing. Above, Gilda and Gertrude pose in their Saints outfits.

SSC Pepsi Students

St. Stanislaus Pepsi Students of the Month for October are, front from left, seventh grader Kevin Estrade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Estrade of Bay St. Louis; second row, junior Pat Cousins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Cousins of Long Beach; ninth grader Kyle Moran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moran of Gulfport; back row, eighth grader Brant Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Ryan of Bay St. Louis; senior Ashton Feehan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Feehan Jr. of Pass Christian; and sophomore Matt Holder, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Holder of Long Beach.

USM survey cites discipline as No. 1 school problem

Increasing numbers of Mississippi Gulf Coast residents apparently believe a lack of discipline is the number one problem facing their public schools.

According to a random telephone survey conducted Nov. 1-11 by a researcher at the University of Southern Mississippi's Gulf Park Campus, 23.9 percent of the respondents ranked lack of discipline as the "biggest problem" challenging the schools.

The other top perceived problems cited in the poll, in the order of their ranking, included: drugs and alcohol, 10.1 percent; lack of financial support, 8.1 percent; parents' lack of interest and/or knowledge, 6.7 percent; and overcrowding, 5.3 percent.

Other problems cited included crime and vandalism, 5 percent; hard to get good teachers, 4.8 percent; youth gangs, 4.5 percent; teacher pay, 3.1 percent; poor curriculum and lack of standards, 2.8 percent; student apathy 2.3 percent; don't know or no answer, 13.6 percent; and other problems, 9.9 percent.

The survey revealed that 55.7 percent of Gulf Coast respondents favored the use of corporal punishment in schools, while 25.1 percent expressed opposition and 14 percent said their backing would "depend on the circumstances."

The survey also showed that 72.1 percent of Gulf Coast respondents favored passage of a state law that would take away drivers' licenses from school dropouts under the age of 18.

Dr. Eric Luce, a USM/Gulf Park assistant professor of secondary education and survey director, said concern for discipline had replaced concern for funding as the top problem cited by Coast residents since a similar survey was conducted in 1992.

"This year, lack of discipline and the use of drugs and alcohol are perceived to be the two biggest problems for local schools..

Luce said of the survey of some 645 residents of Jackson, Harrison and Hancock counties.

Other findings in the 1993 Gulf Park poll included:

* Some 93.3 percent of respondents thought it very important to encourage parents to take a more active part in educating their children, but only 16.7 percent believe the public schools try a great deal to attract participation by parents.

* Only 43.6 percent of parents with children currently in school indicated they would like to have a child of theirs pursue careers in teaching, compared to 67 percent nationally.

* Some 66.4 percent of Gulf Coast respondents favored the concept of allowing students and their parents choose which public schools the students attend, regardless of residence, compared with a 65 percent backing of the school choice idea nationally.

* Some 62.5 percent of Gulf Coast respondents would be willing to pay more taxes to improve the quality of the public schools in the poorer states and poorer communities, compared to 68 percent of respondents in the national poll.

Leadership

Dr. Michael Ryan, St. Stanislaus principal, announced Philip Garcia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Garcia Sr. of Bay St. Louis, as this year's nominee for the Principal's Leadership Award. This award affords principals the opportunity to recognize one of their student leaders and to nominate that student for a national scholarship. One senior, who is an outstanding leader and in the top 20 percent of his class, may be nominated. The program, administered by the National Association of Student Councils and the National Honor Society, will provide 150 scholarships of $1,000 each for 1993.

OLA faculty members Sister M. Elisa Bauman, Mary Alice Benvenuti, Paula McRaney, and John Switzer accompanied the seniors for the two days.

A pot-luck dinner was held on the first evening. Weezie Kennedy, mother of Kay Kennedy, and Carol O'Brien, mother of Erin O'Brien, helped to assemble the meal. Sister Donella Hartman, principal, and Sally Harrison, guidance counselor, joined the seniors and faculty for dinner.

Barr receives grant

The Mississippi Museum of Natural Science announces that Mary Jo Barr of St. Stanislaus is a recipient of one of the first Project Wild Action Grant Program Awards.

These grants are made possible by the Mississippi Museum of Natural Science and the MMNS Foundation through grants from the Mississippi Wildlife Heritage Fund and National Project Wild Action Grant Program whose founding corporate sponsor is the Phillips Petroleum Foundation and the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation.

Twelve schools will be awarded $500 each for their action project proposals. Action projects are student-led projects that serve people, wildlife and the environment.

These outdoor project involve hands-on experiences in improving wildlife habitats on school campuses.

Barr's plans for the grant include the development of an outdoor marsh area in the beach area surrounding the school. A walkway to the area is planned so students can participate in outdoor science classes.
